Toronto, Ontario and New York, New York (October 21, 2025) - Bitfarms Ltd. (NASDAQ/TSX: BITF), a North American energy and digital infrastructure company ("Bitfarms" or the "Company"), today announced that it has closed its offering of US$588 million aggregate principal amount of 1.375% convertible senior notes due 2031 (the "Convertible Notes"), which includes the exercise in full of the $88 million option granted to the initial purchasers of the Convertible Notes.

"I am happy to announce our tremendous success as a first-time issuer in the convertible bond market," said Ben Gagnon, CEO. "We were able to upsize the deal while improving on pricing, preserving upside and minimizing potential economic dilution through a 125% capped call, and introduce many high-quality institutional partners into our cap table. The funds raised through these Convertible Notes have strengthened our balance sheet with cash, Bitcoin, and remaining funds available to draw under the Macquarie project facility to over US$1 billion. We now have the financial firepower and flexibility to move forward at full speed with our HPC/AI infrastructure developments in North America. I would like to thank everyone who participated in the deal – we look forward to working together as we execute on our exciting infrastructure pipeline."
