CORPORATE STRUCTURE

Name, Address and Incorporation

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC) is a diversified financial institution governed by the Bank Act (Canada) (Bank Act). CIBC was formed through the amalgamation of The Canadian Bank of Commerce and Imperial Bank of Canada in 1961. The Canadian Bank of Commerce was originally incorporated as Bank of Canada by special act of the legislature of the Province of Canada in 1858. Subsequently, the name was changed to The Canadian Bank of Commerce and it opened for business under that name in 1867. Imperial Bank of Canada was incorporated in 1875 by special act of the Parliament of Canada and commenced operations in that year. The address of the registered and head office of CIBC is Commerce Court, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5L 1A2.

Intercompany Relationships

Information about the intercompany relationships among CIBC and its principal subsidiaries is provided on page 180 of the 2010 AR.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS

The CIBC Organization

CIBC is a leading Canadian-based, global financial institution. CIBC serves its clients through two distinct strategic business units: CIBC Retail Markets and Wholesale Banking.

CIBC Retail Markets comprises CIBC's personal banking, business banking and wealth management businesses. It provides a full range of financial products and services to personal, business and wealth management clients in Canada and the Caribbean, as well as investment management services to retail and institutional clients in Hong Kong, Singapore and the Caribbean.

Wholesale Banking provides a wide range of credit, capital markets, investment banking, merchant banking and research products and services to government, institutional, corporate and retail clients in Canada and in key markets around the world. Wholesale Banking also conducts treasury execution activities. The mandate of Wholesale Banking is to be a premier client-focused, Canadian-based wholesale bank.

CIBC's two major operating groups are supported by five functional groups: Technology and Operations; Corporate Development; Finance (including Treasury); Administration; and Risk Management. Information about CIBC's business lines and functional groups is provided in CIBC's Management Discussion and Analysis for the year ended October 31, 2010 included on pages 31-95 of the 2010 AR.

A more complete description of services provided by CIBC Retail Markets and Wholesale Banking can be found in the 2010 AR on pages 44-48.

Competitive Conditions

CIBC was the fifth largest Canadian chartered bank in terms of market capitalization as of October 31, 2010.

In 2010, CIBC and its main competitors benefited from an improving business climate as low interest rates and government stimulus helped the domestic economy to recover at a moderate pace from the prior years' recession.

With fairly similar distribution networks, products and services offered by CIBC's major competitors, price competition in more traditional bank businesses such as deposit-taking and lending, together with historically low levels of interest rates, has limited net interest margin growth. Revenue growth has been supported by higher fee-based business, as the major banks have expanded their wealth management and wholesale operations over the past decade.

In recent years, federal regulations have fostered increased competition by allowing subsidiaries of foreign banks and non-bank financial institutions to offer traditional banking services. Advances in technology have also opened up the market to new types of competitors and expanded the reach of existing non-bank competitors by allowing the delivery of limited financial services and products without the presence of a physical branch network. Several global investment banks are active participants in the Canadian capital markets.

The challenging market and economic conditions of the past several years have resulted in some foreign competitors retrenching from the Canadian market in certain retail and wholesale businesses. While economic conditions have started to improve, the economic downturn and proposals for new global capital standards have prompted financial institutions worldwide to reassess the business lines and jurisdictions within which they operate. This could prompt some international financial institutions to decide that certain Canadian businesses no longer fit within their strategic priorities.

Over the last several years, given limited domestic growth opportunities and relatively high price-to-earnings valuations for Canadian banks, there has been an increasing commitment to international expansion by many of the other Canadian banks to provide scale, presence and operational leverage. In 2010, the Canadian banks announced a number of small acquisitions as management remained cautious in deploying capital due to continued regulatory uncertainties.

Finally, while Canadian banks remain relatively well capitalized compared to global peers, there are numerous regulatory proposals being considered domestically and internationally to strengthen the global financial system. The proposed regulatory changes have not been finalized but guidance from the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions on how the new global capital standards will apply to Canadian banks is expected in 2011.

Social and Environmental Policies

Additional information about our environmental policies and environmental risks can be found under “Management of Risk – Environmental Risk” on page 85 of our 2010 AR.

Risk Factors

A discussion of risk factors related to CIBC and its business, and the steps taken to manage those risks appears throughout the 2010 MD&A and in particular under the heading “Management of Risks” on pages 66 to 85 of the 2010 AR.

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

Three Year History

CIBC has a strategic imperative to deliver consistent and sustainable performance over the long term. At the end of 2009, CIBC identified three key priorities to support this imperative:

1. Market leadership in core businesses
 - Achieve and maintain no less than a #3 position, and target #1 or #2, in core Canadian-based retail and wholesale businesses
2. Balanced and actively managed business mix
 - Grow in select areas where we have natural opportunities and proven capabilities
3. Industry-leading fundamentals
 - Strong capital and funding, competitive productivity and sound risk management

CIBC measures progress against these priorities using four key operating objectives:

1. Earnings growth
 - Average annual EPS growth of 5-10%
 - Loan loss ratio of 50-65 bps through the cycle
 - Efficiency ratio at the median of industry peers
2. Return on equity
 - ROE of at least 20% through the cycle
3. Total shareholder return
 - 40-50% dividend payout ratio to common shareholders
 - Total shareholder return that exceeds the industry average
4. Balance sheet strength

- Minimum Tier 1 and total capital ratios of 8.5% and 11.5% respectively
- Allocate at least 75% of economic capital to retail businesses

CIBC made progress against each of these objectives in 2010.

1. Earnings Growth

In 2010, CIBC reported fully diluted cash EPS¹ of $5.95, compared with $2.73 in 2009 and a loss of $(5.80) in 2008. Results in each of these years were impacted by losses in the structured credit run-off business and economic conditions. Diluted EPS for 2010 was $5.87 in 2010 compared to $2.65 in 2009 and a loss of $(5.89) in 2008.

In 2010 CIBC's loan loss ratio (defined as specific provision for credit losses as a percentage of loans and bankers' acceptances, measured on a managed basis¹) improved to 56 basis points compared to 70 basis points in 2009 and 38 basis points in 2008. The improvement in 2010 compared to 2009 was supported primarily by lower write-offs in the cards and personal lending businesses. The higher loss rate in 2009 compared to 2008 was primarily the result of higher losses in the cards and unsecured personal lending businesses, higher losses in leveraged loans, other run-off and U.S. real estate finance businesses.

CIBC's cash efficiency ratio (TEB) (defined as non-interest expenses as a percentage of revenue, measured on a cash and taxable-equivalent basis¹) was 57.6% in 2010 compared to 66.4% in 2009 (2008 results are not meaningful due to losses in the structured credit run-off businesses). The improvement in 2010 is primarily supported by revenue growth. Based on the most recent publicly reported results of the industry peer group, CIBC has maintained its efficiency ratio at the industry median in 2010. CIBC's efficiency ratio was 58.1% in 2010 compared to 67.1% in 2009.

2. Return on Equity

Return on equity in 2010 is 19.4% compared to 9.4% in 2009 and (19.4%) in 2008. The improvement in 2010 and 2009 is driven by higher earnings growth that more than offset higher average shareholders equity.

3. Total Shareholder Return

CIBC's 2010 dividend payout ratio was 59.1% compared to 131.3% in 2009 (CIBC reported a net loss in 2008). The payout ratio improved as a result of higher earnings (with the dividend remaining constant).

CIBC's rolling 5 year total shareholder return in 2010 was 36.6% compared to 50.2% for the S&P/TSX Composite Banks Index. In 2009, CIBC's rolling 5 year total shareholder return was 4.5% compared to 47.4% for the index. In 2008 CIBC's rolling 5 year total shareholder return was 11.4% compared to 43.7% for the index.

4. Balance Sheet Strength

CIBC's Tier 1 and Total capital ratios were 13.9% and 17.8% at the end of 2010. This is up from 12.1% and 16.1% at the end of 2009. Capital ratios in 2010 benefitted from lower risk weighted assets and an increase in both Tier 1 and Total regulatory capital. Tier 1 and Total capital ratios were 10.5% and 15.4% respectively in 2008. The increase in capital ratios in 2009 compared to 2008 was primarily the result of the issue of Tier 1 Notes by CIBC Capital Trust and the issuance of preferred shares, offset in part by structured credit charges during the year.

¹ Non GAAP Measure – refer to pages 42-43 of CIBC's 2010 Annual Report.

At the end of 2010, 74% of economic capital¹ was represented by retail businesses up from 69% in 2009 and 64% in 2008.

DIVIDENDS

CIBC has a common share dividend policy of maintaining a balance between the distribution of profits to shareholders and the need to retain earnings consistent with capital strength and supporting growth in its businesses. In the context of this overall policy, CIBC has a medium term objective for a dividend payout ratio of 40-50% of earnings attributable to common shareholders and seeks to create a pattern of stable growth in dividends per common share as appropriate.

The cash dividends declared and paid per share for each class of CIBC shares and restrictions on the payment of dividends can be found on pages 147 to 150 of the 2010 AR.

CAPITAL STRUCTURE

A description of CIBC's capital structure is provided on pages 146 to 151 of the 2010 AR.

Credit Ratings

Credit ratings are important to CIBC's borrowing costs and ability to raise funds in the wholesale debt markets. CIBC's credit ratings are discussed on page 83 of the 2010 MD&A under the heading "Management of Risk – Liquidity Risk". Credit ratings should not be construed as a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold CIBC securities. Ratings may be revised or withdrawn at any time by the respective rating agencies.

Definitions of the categories of each rating as at October 31, 2010 have been obtained from the respective rating agencies' websites and are outlined in Appendix A. A more detailed explanation of the various ratings categories may be obtained from the ratings agencies.

Appendix A

Rating Definitions

Dominion Bond Rating Service (DBRS)

Short-Term Debt

Rating: R-1 (high)

Short-term debt ratings indicate the risk that a borrower will not be able to meet its short-term debt obligations in a timely manner. Short-term debt rated R-1 (high) is of the highest credit quality, indicative of an entity with an exceptionally high capacity to be able to repay short term financial liabilities as they become due. R-1 is the highest of six short-term debt ratings categories.

Senior Debt

Rating: AA

Subordinated Debt

Rating: AA (low)

Long-term debt ratings provide an assessment of the risk that the issuer will not be able to meet its obligations under the terms of the issue. Long-term debt rated AA is ranked in the second highest of 10 categories. It is considered to be of superior credit quality, with capacity for payment considered to be high. Entities rated AA are unlikely to be significantly susceptible to future events.

Preferred Shares

Rating: Pfd-1(low)

Preferred share ratings provide an assessment of the risk that the issuer will not be able to meet its dividend and principal obligations in a timely manner. A Pfd-1 rating is the highest of 6 categories for preferred shares. Preferred shares rated Pfd-1 are of superior credit quality; supported by entities with strong earnings and balance sheet attributes.

(Each DBRS rating category may be denoted by the subcategories “high” or “low”. The absence of a “high” or “low” designation indicates the rating is in the middle of the category.)

Moody's

Short-Term Debt

Rating: P-1

Short-term debt ratings are assessments of an issuer's ability to repay short-term obligations. There are four categories of ratings with P-1 being rated the highest. Issuers rated P-1 have a superior ability to repay short-term debt obligations.

Senior Debt

Rating: Aa2

Subordinated Debt

Rating: Aa3

Long term debt ratings reflect an assessment of whether or not financial obligations with an original maturity of 1 year or more will not be met. The Aa rating category includes debt judged to be of high quality and very low credit risk and it is the second highest of 9 categories.

Preferred shares

Rating: Baa1

A Baa rating is the fourth highest of nine categories used by Moody's. The obligation is subject to moderate credit risk. These are medium grade obligations that may have certain speculative attributes.

(The modifiers 1, 2 and 3 may be used to indicate that the obligation ranks in the high, mid-range or lower end of the rating category respectively.)

Standard & Poor's (S&P)

Short-Term Debt

Rating: A-1

A short-term borrowing rated A-1 is rated in the highest of ten categories used by S&P. The borrower's capacity to meet its financial obligations with respect to the debt is strong.

Senior Debt

Rating: A+

Subordinated Debt

Rating: A

The A rating is the third highest of ten categories used to assess the ability of the borrower to meet its financial obligations as they become due. Although the borrower's ability to meet its financial commitment on the obligation is strong, obligations rated A are somewhat more vulnerable to the negative effects of changes in circumstances and economic conditions than obligations in higher rated categories. A "+" or "-" grade may be used to denote the relative standing of a rating within the major rating categories.

Preferred Shares

Canadian Rating: P-1(Low)

Global Rating: A-

The P-1 rating is the highest of the eight categories used by S&P in its Canadian preferred share rating scales. CIBC's rating of P-1 (Low) on the Canadian scale corresponds to a rating of A- on S&P's global scale, which is in the second highest category on that scale. "High" and "Low" (for the Canadian scale) and "+" and "-" (for the global scale) grades may be used to indicate the relative standing of a credit within a particular rating category.

Fitch

Short-Term Debt

Rating: F1+

This rating indicates the highest credit quality and the strongest capacity for timely payment of short term financial commitments. The F1 rating is in the highest of seven ratings categories.

Senior Debt

Rating: AA-

AA is the second highest rating category of ten ratings categories and indicates an assessment of very high credit quality and very low credit risk. This rating indicates a very strong capacity for timely payment of financial obligations that is not significantly vulnerable to foreseeable events.

Subordinated Debt

Rating: A+

Preferred Shares

Rating: A

The A rating is in the third highest category and indicates an assessment of high credit quality and low credit risk. The capacity for payment of obligations is considered strong, but may however, be more susceptible to changes in circumstances or in economic conditions than that of higher ratings.

(The signs "+" (plus) or "-" (minus) denote relative position within major ratings categories.)

Appendix C

CIBC Policy on the Scope of Services of the Shareholders' Auditors

1. Summary

This policy is designed to provide a consistent approach for the engagement of the shareholders' auditors; it also establishes the roles and responsibilities of those involved in external audit engagements and must be followed by all employees responsible for the engagement of shareholders' auditors.

2. Intent

The purpose of this policy is to set parameters for the engagement of the shareholders' auditors by CIBC consistent with CIBC corporate governance expectations and applicable law, including the U.S. Sarbanes-Oxley Act and SEC Rules. Failure to comply with this policy may result in the disqualification of CIBC's appointed shareholders' auditors to conduct the financial statement and internal control audits for CIBC.

3. Audience / Scope

This Policy covers all work that might be performed by the shareholders' auditors through engagements with CIBC or its subsidiaries.

The term shareholders' auditors refers to the firm of accountants that is appointed to perform the audit of the consolidated financial statements of CIBC and its subsidiaries. The current shareholders' auditors are Ernst & Young LLP, including any Ernst & Young International, Ltd. or Ernst & Young Global Limited member or affiliated firm of Ernst & Young.

4. Policy Requirements

4.1 Scope of work and authorization standards:

- 4.1.1 All work performed by the shareholders' auditors for CIBC or its subsidiaries (includes all majority owned entities) will be pre-approved by the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee may delegate authority to pre-approve such work to subcommittees consisting of one or more of its members, provided that any work so pre-approved must be ratified by the full Audit Committee at the next meeting of the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee may also establish pre-approval policies and procedures that are specific to a particular service. In order to meet this responsibility, for each fiscal quarter a pre-approved spending limit by category of allowable work is established and displayed in the Appendix. The EVP Finance Shared Services will monitor and report to the Audit Committee the quarterly cumulative use of the pre-approved limits. (See Appendix for Examples of Services)
- 4.1.2 In the event that a non-audit service is provided by the shareholders' auditors that was not recognized at the time of the engagement to be a non-audit service, such service must be brought to the attention of the Audit Committee or its delegate for approval.

- 4.1.3 The shareholders' auditors will only perform audit, audit-related and tax work. Examples of "audit", "audit-related" and "tax work" are included in the Appendix.
- 4.1.4 The shareholders' auditors will be prohibited from performing corporate recovery work for a CIBC corporate credit customer when CIBC is in a position to direct the choice of the financial advisors or consultants.
- 4.1.5 The Audit Committee may approve exceptions to (3) and (4) above when it determines that such an exception is in the overriding best interests of CIBC and it is determined that such an exception does not impair the independence of the shareholders' auditors. However, certain non-audit activities are generally prohibited and generally will not be considered for exception from this policy. These non-audit activities are listed in the Appendix.

4.2 Ongoing relationship standards:

- 4.2.1 The lead and concurring partners on the engagement will serve for a maximum of five years and then be subject to a five-year time out from serving on CIBC audits.
- 4.2.2 Other than the lead and the concurring partners, audit partners who have responsibility for decision-making on significant auditing, accounting and reporting matters will serve for a maximum of seven years and then be subject to a two-year time out from serving on CIBC audits, unless the audit partner performs less than 10 hours of audit, review or attest services.
- 4.2.3 CIBC will not employ, in a financial reporting oversight role, a member of the shareholders' auditors engagement team within 12 months of the final closure of the audit in which that individual last participated.

5. Monitoring / Oversight Mechanism

- 5.1 On a quarterly basis, the EVP Finance Shared Services will prepare and present to the Audit Committee a summary report of all engagements of the shareholders' auditors that are currently underway or have been completed since the prior quarter's report, including engagements entered into pursuant to pre-approved quarterly limits. The summary report will describe the nature of each engagement, confirm that each engagement is in compliance with this policy and state the fees received by the shareholders' auditors for each engagement.
- 5.2 Business management will make either oral or written presentations to the Audit Committee or its designee seeking pre-approvals for engagements of the shareholders' auditors.
- 5.3 On a quarterly basis, the shareholders' auditors will certify to the Audit Committee that all engagements with CIBC have been in compliance with this policy and will confirm that the shareholders' auditors continues to be "independent" under applicable laws, rules and guidelines. As well, quarterly the shareholders' auditors will table at the Audit Committee a classification and continuity schedule of all partners and staff that must be tracked in order to ensure adherence to the Ongoing Relationship Standards.
- 5.4 The EVP Finance Shared Services will be a signatory on all contracts of engagement with the shareholders' auditors.

6. Roles and Responsibilities

The EVP Finance Shared Services is accountable for the management of this Policy and providing interpretations on its application.

7. Maintenance and Review

This policy is effective from the date of approval by the Audit Committee of CIBC, December 1, 2010 and applies to all subsequent engagements.

This policy will be reviewed at least annually and will be submitted to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors for review and approval. Material changes will be submitted to the CIBC Governance and Control Committee for approval prior to submission to the Audit Committee. Any significant updates will be communicated on CIBC Today.
